PRESIDENT STEPHENSON SAYS ECONOMY IS WATCHWORD

Full Explanation of the Few Increases in Salaries and Reasons Given for Them—Many Employes Should Receive More Pay—Not as Well Paid as Other Cities

Glendale, June 4, 1921.
Editor Glendale Press,

Dear Sir: There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of a number of our citizens regarding the salary ordinance just passed. I, therefore, am taking the liberty of explaining just what this ordinance does and does not do.

At the close of each fiscal year the board of trustees are required to make up an annual budget. The salary ordinance just passed is a part of that budget. It is a regular routine matter and nothing irregular has been done. A reading of the ordinance will show that it does not become effective until after the present board goes out of office, therefore, it will readily be seen that the present board will not benefit in any way from the ordinance.

The salaries of the city manager and the city engineer have not been increased by this ordinance. The salary of the city attorney was increased $50 a month because the board felt the position was worth it. It should again be noted that this increase is not effective until July 1. The city recorder was granted an increase of $50 a month, making his salary $150 a month. For the month of May, 1921, the city recorder turned over to the city treasurer the sum of $1367 in fees, and we cannot see wherein we can be criticized for granting this deserved increase. The chief of police and the chief of the fire department were each given an increase of $15 a month, making the salary of each position $175 a month, and any fair-minded citizen will agree that the offices are worth it. The building inspector has heretofore occupied a dual position, i. e., building inspector and city forester, and received salaries for both positions. He will now receive one salary for one position, serving as city forester without salary. His rate was increased $15 a month. The secretary to the city manager was granted an increase of $10 a month, and is worth it. The fact that laborers and others are rated at $4.25 a day does not necessarily mean that they will receive that much. It establishes a maximum rate, but if they can be hired for less they surely will be paid less.

There are many deserving employes of the city of Glendale who should receive higher salaries than they do. They are all conscientiously doing

HEROIC WORK DONE IN THE FLOOD AREA

Deeds of Bravery by Courageous Men in Rescue Work at Pueblo and Other Stricken Territory—Whole Families Wiped Out by Raging Waters—Many Pathetic Incidents Among Terror-Stricken Populace—Compelled to Drink Muddy Water—Supplies Cut Off

By W. W. PRICE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 6.—A veritable swishing, sucking Styx, bearing in its yellow muck houses, cattle, horses, huge trees and timber; smashing everything in its pages and here and there, limp bodies whirling with the current to appear for a moment and then swoop down, going through a window of a house, to be again sucked out, on their silent journey of death, down into the mud of the roaring Arkansas river on the worst rampage of its turbulent career.

Such were the scenes that I witnessed in Pueblo from late Friday night until my escape from the turmoil. In all my wildest dreams I had never imagined such an experience possible. Silent, yet swishing waters holding in their grip a city of 50,000 souls, and under the eerie light of a score of fires in all parts of the flooded areas, men moved like ghosts during the black night when Pueblo walked in the valley of the shadow.

Perhaps the most pitiable scene was at the Colorado asylum, for the insane, situated in the flood area, surrounded with the waters, and filled with maniacs. When the waters began to get into the grounds the insane, who had been at the windows, became frantic despite the efforts of nurses and men attendants to take them back. Screams filled the air and many beat themselves into insensibility in an effort to escape from their bars. But all were removed safely to the second and third floors of the hospital. Marooned by the waters and with their supplies of food destroyed, drinking only of the muddy waters, they were in a pitiable plight until supplies were brought to them by men in rowboats.

The city's waterworks was early out of commission and will be for many days.

When the warning sirens tolled Friday night, I, like many others, curiously went toward the river front, not expecting any rapid rise. I left my motor car and was walking, and then saw men running for their lives. The water was soon lapping at their heels, and I turned andfled to my car, a block away. So fast did the water come that no sooner did I get my car out from the curb than the waters were upon me. I stepped on the throttle with all the power I had, but even then the waters lapped the running boards, but I reached safety.

Then came the fires when timbers, lighted in the King lumber-yards blaze went darting here and there, carrying their flames. Many were extinguished but the flood carried hundreds into stores and homes and a score of fires broke out at once. Firemen stood on higher ground helplessly watching the blazes. The ruin to business was total in the downtown area, except in a few cases where goods were on floors above the second story. Practically the entire business section of the city was inundated, the river returning to its old channel that in 1870 took it through the heart of the city. You cannot teach an old river new tricks. Business men are ruined as there is on salvation or salvage, no insurance.

A railroad man who escaped from the flood told me the story of the two trains filled with passengers, with steam up in the yards, ready for the signal to leave, but which was delayed five minutes too long. Railroad men were heroes here, like the captains on stricken ocean liners, not leaving their ships until the last passengers were out. Conductor Cal Groves, of the Denver & Rio Grande train No. 3, and a colored Pullman porter, carried armloads of children to higher ground, where others were waiting to move them to safety. They both returned for more. Four trips were made by the conductor and the porter, and when the waters were tearing down 30 miles an hour, they went back for two women. A floating tie struck Groves in the head, and

ROUNDING UP ALL CHORUS SINGERS

Members of Glendale Music Club Urged to Attend Convention Rehearsal

Mrs. Spencer Robinson, Mrs. Frank Arnold and Mrs. Warren Roberts have been named as a committee to solicit members of the Glendale Music Club to join the big chorus which is to be such a feature of the state convention of the Christian Endeavor to be held in Glendale in the Tabernacle from June 25 to 29. There will be a rehearsal Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Christian church and every member of the Glendale Music Club who sings is requested to be present at that time and place.

HI Y GROUP WERE DINNER GUESTS

Boys of the second Hi-Y group were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hand, 354 Salem street, on Friday evening, at a sumptuous four-course dinner whose piece de resistance was fried chicken.

A pink and white decoration scheme was carried out by means of spring flowers, place cards and favors, and boyish appetites did justice to the plentiful helpings of good things served them by Mrs. Hand and her assistant hostesses, Mrs. Edwin Murphy and the Misses Hand.

A program, including a whistling solo by Mrs. Louise Bowman and readings by Mrs. Edwin Murphy, followed the dinner and the rest of the evening was devoted to social games and merry conversation.

A letter from Rex Kelley, Y. M. C. A. leader, congratulating this group on its work, was also read during the evening. Mr. Kelley also complimented the boys with a large bouquet of lovely flowers.

ELKS BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATED

After having held their opponents even for six innings with a score of one and one, the Elks baseball aggregation went down to defeat before the superior team work of the San Fernando team. No blame attaches to the local boys as they gave the best they had to offer, but could not stem the tide of hits dealt out by their more shifty adversaries.

Next Sunday the Elks team will play the New Method team on the home grounds at Park avenue and San Fernando boulevard.

BOYS HAVE ROYAL GOOD TIME ON BRAND ESTATE

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand Make Ideal Host and Hostess and Tell Boys Place Belongs to Them During Their Stay—Youngsters From All Over County

The Y. M. C. A. round-up at the home of L. C. Brand Friday afternoon and evening, proved to be all it promised in the way of a good time, not only to the 250 boys entertained, but to Mr. and Mrs. Brand, their host and hostess, who have no children and to whom the encampment of so many normal, natural, well behaved boys was a treat and revelation.

The youngsters, who ranged in age from 10 to 14 years, began arriving about 4 p. m., coming by trolley, by auto and on foot from all parts of the county, near and far. There were 16 locations as follows: Burbank, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Monrovia, Covina, Puente, La Verne, San Dimas, San Gabriel, Alhambra, Garvalia, Glendora, Monterey Park, Baldwin Park and El Monte.

After the boys had gotten rid of their packs and placed their equipment in the shape of blankets, cooking utensils, etc., where it belonged, J. C. Budwig, aviator, took them in charge and showed them Mr. Brand's air ships. Then games were played—push ball, cage ball, basket ball, soccer, etc.

Supper was the order of the day at 6 o'clock and after that came the big camp fire. For this Mr. Brand had caused to be assembled a pile of logs. These were lighted and then Mr. Brand made them a little speech of welcome, telling them what a pleasure it was to him to entertain them, that while they were there the place was theirs and he wanted to do everything he could to give them a good time. He also told them that the winners in the races the following day would be given an aeroplane ride. Ford Everton, a 13-year-old Alhambra boy made a little speech in response in which he told what good times the boys always have on their hikes, adding that this hike would be the best they ever had. Both speakers received their proper meed of applause and then a program of songs and yells was put on, Riley-Lyons, jr., of Glendale, being one of the yell leaders. Stunts followed—pillow fighting on a pole, barrel boxing, tug of war, etc.

By then it was time for bed and the boys turned in. Bright and early Saturday morning the boys were stirring and it was a pleasant sight to see so many fires and the breakfasts

MUSIC WEEK IN OUR GLENDALE SCHOOLS

Missionary Zeal Along Music Lines and Reciprocity Is the Keynote

Music Week was a very real thing to the orchestra of the Intermediate school and its instructor, Miss Brennan. They went to all the large grammar schools and gave a program in combination with the children of the school visited. There was community singing at each school. Friday's program at Intermediate was a kind of climax to the week's activities in the music line. At that time it will be remembered, students from Glendale high gave most of the numbers on the program. The thought of the week was reciprocity in music and missionary work in interesting boys and girls to the point of taking up orchestral work in the grades.

POPULAR GLENDALE MAN TO MARRY

Charles W. Letts, a popular member of the Elks club will this evening bid farwell to the ranks of the bachelors. His wedding to Miss Alma Marie Holten will take place at the home of the bride at 3864 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles at 8 o'clock this evening. Among those who will be present from Glendale are the Misses Myrtle and Grace Magnee, Mr. and Mrs. Lin William Price and Morris E. Andrews.

Mr. Letts is connected with the Standard Oil Company and is the son of Charles Letts, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco lines.

COOKED FOOD SALE NEXT SATURDAY

Ladies of theChurch of the Holy Family will hold a cooked food sale next Saturday at the Glendale Phonograph and Piano company, 109 North Brand boulevard. Mmes. L. C. Buehler and Barosso will have charge of the sale in the morning and Mmes. Howard and O'Neill Farrell will preside in the afternoon.

SOLDIERS' BENEFIT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Savoring of the Unusual, the great all-star performance to be given at the Palace Grand theater, Glendale, for the benefit of the sick fund of the American Legion on Wednesday night, June 15, is announced by the committee in charge that one of the 12 features will be a trio of Russians in costume. Sonia Zariova, who escaped from the Bolsheviki by airplane, will sing; G. W. Golukeff will play the mandolin and A. N. Ivanoff will give balaika solos.

'DEESTRICK SKULE' IS GREAT SUCCESS

Auditorium at High School Would Not Accommodate All Who Came

The "Deestrick Skule" was a trifle late in starting Saturday afternoon because of the big crowd which sought admittance in excess of the seats available. Late comers could not be accommodated until ticket holders had been seated and these taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium to the limit.

There was about the same situation at night and the performances were successful from every view point. The appreciation of the matinee audience stimulated the players and their work in the evening was even more sparkling and finished in response to the applause of adults capable of appreciating many fine points lost upon the children who nevertheless found plenty to enjoy.

An accompaniment of orchestral music was furnished by the Intermediate school orchestra, directed by Miss Brennan.

On the whole it was agreed by many of the old timers that the "Deestrick Skule" as presented by these moderns was scarcely overdrawn though it contained a few anachronisms as for instance the presence of women on the school committee, and the alarm clocks of which the mischievous Billy Crowfoot was relieved, but nobody minded a little thing like that.

The entrance of the school committee headed by Mr. Whytock as Jonathan Longfellow—the ladies, Miss Chase as Mrs. Billaker and Miss Hutchason as Mrs. Pry in their consistently old-fashioned gowns and bonnets, but nevertheless attractive, prepared the expectant audience for what was to follow.

Such plot as it possessed was ingeniously worked out and there was something doing every minute, each member of the big cast functioned in some individual way that contributed to general entertainment and because they were so individual it is hardly possible to say wherein one excelled another. If there were any star performers they were Superintendent White (scarcely recognizable in his shock of red hair and green vest as the wild Irish lad Mike O'Flynn, Mr. Blanford, the irrepressible, with a very black eye to testify to his pugnacity, and Miss Midcalf as the obstreperous Dorcas Doolittle. Ann Brown and Buddy Brown (Miss Lookabaugh and Mr. Miner), were excellent, the Honeysuckle Twins (Miss McPherson and Miss Longley), and the recitation drowned in giggles was also quite typical of the old time, for the boys and girls of that day were not trained from kindergarten to speak in public on the stage as much as they are now and they found it an embarrassing and "silly" experience for the most part.

PROPAGANDA TO CREATE DISORDER AND DISSENSION

Rev. C. A. Cole of Central Christian Church Decries Attempts to Divide Community and Start Factional Differences Which Do Not Exist—Our City Is Nearly Ideal

During a sermon last night, at the Central Christian church, on the topic, "Shall Jehovah Keep the City?" in which he declared that the precepts of Jehovah, righteousness, justice, mercy and fidelity to the faith, must prevail in our great American cities, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, positively denied that there is a movement on foot in Glendale to force "Blue Laws," that the matter of any sort of Sunday legislation has not been before the Ministerial Union and that there is either propaganda back of the persistent rumors with ulterior motives, or an attempt to divide the community and to set up factional differences which do not exist. In discussing the fact that a city must honor God, he said:

"Efforts on the part of ministers and churches and others who have the moral welfare of our country at heart, and the interests of our youth, have brought them into sharp conflict with one of the largest commercial interests in the nation, whose studied efforts seem to be to break down the moral standing of our homes and of this Christian nation for the sake of money. For 300 years in America, founded on Christian principles, it has been the custom for the church to hold sacred the Lord's Day. This habit has been a chief factor in making us what we are as a people.

Now a crowd of foreigners and despisers of the church, with millions at their disposal, and who control the stage and the movies, propose to break down our bulwark of safety as a nation. They have deliberately conceived and brought forth a campaign of slurring and lying, propaganda, aimed at the ministry and the church, with scare headlines and language telling of coming "blue laws," and our Lord's Day, our day of rest and worship through all the years "is made both the goose and the goat; the goose that lays the golden egg for the producers of vileness: the goat of all propaganda to make the people think that decency and the blues are synonymous."

These propagandists are making themselves targets for a weapon that will destroy—the moral and religious forces of a country that has built into it righteousness and fidelity to Jehovah.

There is propaganda to make an issue in Glendale. It is made absolutely out of whole cloth. There is either money back of it or a contemptible effort to set one part of a community against another. Any such effort is born of the devil and its persistency in the face of facts is evidence. Our city is as nearly an ideal city as any in this country. Of course there are things that many of us would have different but we're not going to resort to subterfuge or personal compulsion to bring them about, nor do we propose any Sunday laws. We're Americans and Christians. We believe in a separate state and church. We also believe in no separation of morals and the state. I believe that an American community should also see that commercialized amusement should not compete at the hour of worship with the greatest institution in the nation, the church, and it ought not to be countenanced. And that is not blue. You can do what you please on the Lord's Day so long as you do not trespass on public rights—the right of American people to protect their own day and to maintain its character, and that right is undisputed, it is constitutional. Men can fish, work in their gardens, ride, swim, play games, so long as they do not constitute themselves foes of public morals and of the great fundamentals and foundations, principles and institutions. Of course Christians who respect the church will not do these things.

He who says there's an organized attempt on the part of the churches or ministers to bring "blue laws" into our city is either bidding for sensational gratification or is deliberately lying. And they who deliberately divide this community where there is no occasion are traitors to its best interests."

EAST SIDERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

The East Side Welfare Association will hold a postponed meeting at the Broadway school building this evening. Matters of particular interest to that section of the city will be discussed and citizens from the city in general are invited to be present.

MRS. M. L. ADAMS STRUCK BY TRUCK

In crossing Broadway at the south east corner of Brand boulevard about 7:30 this morning, Mrs. M. L. Adams, of this city, was struck by a truck driven by Arthur Budway of Eagle Rock, and owned by Jesse Smith of the local Ford agency.

Presumably, the Pacific Electric car standing on the track, prevented Mrs. Adams from seeing the advancing truck, and also hindered the driver from seeing the lady, who, it is supposed, was on her way to board an interurban drawn up at the crossing.

Mrs. Adams was taken to the Glendale sanitarium where her injuries were found to consist of shock, scratches and bruises, which are painful but not serious. It was stated at the hospital that she will probably be able to leave there today.

CLOSE OF MUSIC WEEK IN GLENDALE

Music Week celebrations, as far as Glendale are concerned, will close tonight with the fine program to be put on at the First Methodist church, to which all Glendale is invited without charge and which will be given under the auspices of the Glendale Music Club. A banquet will precede the evening's entertainment at which Charles Wakefield Cadman, Vernon Spencer and Gertrude Ross, all composers of note, will be guests. Several fine numbers will be given by the Burbank Choral Club, at the concert.

TWO MOTORCYCLE RIDERS INJURED

Francis Todd, 4116 Bemis street, Los Angeles, and Dick Yates, 329 West Acacia, Glendale, were slightly injured when the motorcycle which they were riding broke and caused them to lose control of it at Park avenue and San Fernando road. They were given assistance at the Mission Rest Home, 1011 San Fernando road, near where the accident occurred, until they were taken to the Glendale Sanitarium. Neither of them was hurt seriously.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE TO BE GIVEN

Ramona Institute, Y. L. I., will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday in the hall in the Central building. Plans for the card party and dance to be given by these young ladies at the Ambassador hotel on the afternoon and evening of June 18 will be completed. Tickets for this social event, which promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season, are going rapidly. Many of the friends of Ramona Institute members in Los Angeles, Pasadena and other nearby cities are giving it their liberal support.

NEW OFFICERS FOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

Members of the new cabinet of the Epworth League of the Central Avenue Methodist church were installed Sunday evening at the regular meeting of the organization, as follows: Albert Hewitt, president; Edna Phillips, first vice-president; Esther Besant, second vice-president; Mildred Williams, third vice-president; Will Marple, fourth vice-president; Emily Kopp, secretary; Harold Williams, treasurer; Helen Muhleman, organist; Mrs. Hewitt, junior league superintendent.

The program which was furnished by the Junior League, included special music and Bible verses which formed an acoustic that spelled the words "Junior League,' were recited by junior members.

A great deal of enthusiasm pervaded the meeting and great things are expected of the organization the coming year.

At the regular evening service the pastor preached a sermon especially addressed to the Epworth League members. Following the service a business session was held.

GLENDALE EXTENDS PUEBLO SYMPATHY

The following telegram was sent to Pueblo by Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Rhoades, expressing sympathy and offering financial assistance:

Glendale expresses deepest regret for calamity occurring in your city. Please convey to your people our sincerest sympathy. If you need financial assistance, wire us, our expense, and we shall be glad to render such assistance as is in our power.

S. L. Rowland and L. B. Beach, former residents of Pueblo, also extend sympathy and are joining us in this telegram.

Glendale Chamber of Commerce,
By J. M. RHOADES.

COMPLETES A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

Completing a trip around the world, Eugene Myer, one of the six Myer brothers, has returned to Glendale for a short visit with the home folks at 224 North Belmont. Mr. Meyer is from the S. S. Crastor Hall and was at one time junior instructor of navigation on the training ship, Hollywood.

He visited, on this trip, China, Japan and India, and various European ports and brought back a trunkful of curios and interesting mementoes of the voyage.

When there is no shoe polish in the house, a few drops of lemon juice rubbed on briskly, makes an excellent substitute.

DAMAGED

TO CHRISTIANIZE JAPANESE PEOPLE

A meeting was held at the Tropico Presbyterian church, Saturday night, in the interests of a better understanding between Glendale citizens and the Japanese residents. The churches of Glendale are cooperating in this work and at the same time helping to bring the Gospel to the Japanese. Rev. Julius Soper opened the meeting by reading the 13th chapter of First Corinthians in the Japanese language and prayer was offered by Rev. Rider. Talks in Japanese were made by Miss Edith Spencer, for 43 years a missionary in Nippon land and who goes back there this fall to spend the remainder of her days at the urgent request of numerous Japanese converts, who provide the necessary funds for the purpose; by Miss Heroaki, who came to Los Angeles from Japan ten months to assist in the Japanese mission in the Angel City; and by Tenyo S. Yasaki, editor of La Japanese Daily News. Mrs. Sakimoto of Los Angeles, Rex Kelley for the Y. M. C. A., and Rev. Soper made brief talks in English. Quite a number of Japanese from Los Angeles were present. Mrs. R. D. Jones gave a very pleasing vocal solo and a humorous reading, her little daughter, Margaret, sang. Miss Dorothy Peart contributed a beautiful song and Mrs. Campbell a beautiful piano selection. Three little Japanese girls sang a hymn in English also. At the close of the program tea, sandwiches and wafers were dispensed most generously to the hundred or more people present. The next meeting will be held early in July.

"Deestrick Skule" Is Great Success

The little play was decidedly clever in conception and portrayal and the Teachers' Club is to be congratulated on the talent found in its membership and the talent it was able to borrow.

The finale of the little play given by members of the City Teachers' Club, was a spirited song, the words of which were written by Mrs. E. E. Hanwood, of the Central avenue school. It made a great hit, and is published herewith.

Glendale Straight Ahead

(Tune—"Why Don't the Band Play?")

I.

Glendale is the best city of the West;
Homes of beauty, streets so clean and wide;
Aims that reach the sky like her mountains high;
Surely we that know her, love her best.
Join her booster band, playing through the land;
Watch our business flourish, see us grow.
Schools that hold their place, flowers our gardens grace,
Glendale, Greater Glendale, we will know.

Chorus:

Why don't you all boost for Glendale land?
Boost her to honor and fair renown.
For "Greater Glendale, Straight Ahead,"
She that leads and won't be led—
Why don't you all boost for Glendale Town?

II.

Boost your own home town; publish her renown;
Loyal boosters answer to our call;
Travelers come and go, passing to and fro;
Glendale has some corner for them all.
All her streets are bright, with a shining light,
Busy with her traffic's noisy tread.
Tourists soon will see what is bound to be—
"Glendale, Greater Glendale, Straight Ahead."

(Repeat Chorus)

P.-T. A. WILL HAVE CONFERENCE FRIDAY

The conference and luncheon of the Parent-Teacher Association of Glendale will be held at the First Methodist church, corner of Wilson avenue and Kenwood street, on Friday, June 10.

The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock and the luncheon will be served at 12 by the ladies of the church. All reservations should be made early. Mrs. C. H. Thompson, 348 West Maple street, has charge of the tickets.

The program will be along lines of departmental work and will be presented by able speakers. Come and bring your friends. Come in the morning and stay for lunch. Come to lunch and stay for the afternoon. Mrs. John Robert White, president of the Parent-Teacher Association says come and stay all day. It will be time well spent.

"GLEN AND DALE"

Harry C. Allan, of San Francisco, state Christian Endeavor field secretary, was a guest of the Glendale convention committee Sunday afternoon. Mr. Allan is an ex-state president and thoroughly familiar with all branches of Christian Endeavor work, now acting as field secretary for the state. He is very enthusiastic over the outlook of the coming state convention to be held in Glendale, June 25 to 29, and has promised to bring a large delegation from the north with him. Mr. Allan was a guest over Saturday and Sunday of Howard L. Brown, 406 North Maryland avenue, chairman of the local convention committee, and leaves this morning for the bay district where he is working up a large delegation which will accompany him to Glendale June 25, to attend the largest and best state Christian Endeavor convention ever held, according to his belief from what he has seen and heard during his brief visit here.

both men were knocked down and drowned. Their bodies were found later. In a few minutes the force of the flood had overturned both trains, one a Denver & Rio Grande, the other a Missouri Pacific, onto their sides. There were many passengers in them and apparently the majority of them were lost. Now the railroad yards are six feet deep in mud with four feet of water on it, and it will be a week before anyone knows the extent of the casualties there.

When the lumber yard fire started, I witnessed one of the finest incidents in my life. Two high school boys secured a boat from a lake north of the city when they learned that their pal, Francis King, son of the owner of the yards, was in danger, and rescued the boy and his father, George King, millionaire of this city, and went back for two more trips, with the flaming timbers hurling around them and every minute threatening to inundate them.

Dr. Herbert Carp, prominent physician, stripped to his underwear, took a boat to rescue his son Robert, 10 years old, who was trapped in his father's office on the second floor of an office building. He got the youngster into the boat and a huge tree struck the boat, capsizing it. His body was found around the block Saturday morning.

I saw a two-story frame house, whirling and bobbing its way down Main street, a woman in the second story window. It crashed into a department store and the woman was thrown into the flood.

Night Captain Jack Sinclair of the police department told me that a crew of four men in boats took eighteen families out of the windows of their homes on the west side of town. A mother, the captain said, had her babe clasped in her arms when the youngster, frightened by the event, gave a lurch and pitched out into the inky black waters. With a moan, the woman threw herself after the child.

Pueblo men Sunday morning told me that they are positive that scores of the drowned will never be found and where entire families in the "bottoms" were wiped out, no one will ever know whether they are alive or dead. The river, carrying its mass of wreckage for 100 miles into Kansas, must have deposited in the yellow mud many bodies that some farmer may plow up next spring when planting his crops.

The people in the "bottoms," living in small shacks and others, squatters in tents, refused to heed the early warnings. When they tried to get out with their belongings, it was too late. One aged gypsy woman, carrying a mantel clock, was seen to slip back into the stream as she was trying to get out with her burden. Apparently, time meant a lot to her.

As we stood watching the stream all night Friday, the only sounds were the shouts of the rescuers or here and there a groan from those who were being carried to the first aid stations. When the fires burned low, it was pitch dark and the rescuers were almost helpless. With the light plant destroyed and candles impossible to secure, the city was in total darkness and the dumfounded citizens maintained silent watches, fearing for the unmerciful daylight that would reveal the full extent of their sufferings and losses.

I heard a railroad brakeman, who escaped by riding the hurricane deck of a freight car, say that the car rolled and tossed like a broncho, but he held on where others wouldhave been torn loose.

Pueblo people must be praised for their bravery and ability to organize. In less than an hour after the flood was at its worst, the town was patrolled by American Legion volunteers and police and citizens.

The ghouls began their dastardly work in the darkness, and one Mexican was shot dead as he swam out of a jewelry store which he had attempted to loot.

As the waters receded Sunday morning they left a slippery, yellow, slimy mud two feet deep. Buried in this mud must be many of the dead.

C. B. GUTHRIE HOST TO SELLING CORPS

Charles Guthrie, the realtor operator, entertained at Casa Verdugo one evening recently, his managers and selling force, with a five-course Spanish dinner. Those present were M. N. Rinearson and mother, Mrs. H. B. Rinearson, managers of the Doran and Brand office; C. H. Montgomery of Kenneth road and Grand View; F. D. Winslow of Broadway and Adams; W. E. High of Los Feliz, and O. E. Von Oven, general manager. Blue and white, the color combination that features the Guthrie advertising, were carried out in the flowers which adorned the table. It was a get-together affair to line up working plans for months to come. A fine feeling of esprit de corps was manifested and all went home with renewed enthusiasm.

MR. VON OVEN SELLS HIS FOOTHILL SITE

O. T. Von Oven has just sold through the Charles B. Guthrie agency at Kenneth road and Grand View, of which C. H. Montgomery is manager, View just above Kenneth road, to Albert Webber of Los Angeles. It is a very beautiful site commanding a magnificent view of the San Fernando valley. Mr. Webber will continue the improvements started by Mr. Von Oven and some time in the near future will build a fine home. The tract in which it is located comprising 3½ acres was bought by January 1. Messrs. Guthrie, Von Oven and W. W. Worley dividing it equally. The tract was surveyed and graded, 150 trees have been set and general improvements carried out.

Mr. Von Oven has found it necessary to live closer to the heart of Glendale and in the near future will make another home for himself and Mrs. Von Oven in the neighborhood of his old stamping ground at Columbus and Riverdale, where he made his home for years. It was his first nesting place, he says, and he does not feel at home anywhere else.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CHOIR PLANS CONCERT

As a mark of their appreciation and esteem, the choir of the Christian church presented to Mrs. Calvin Whiting, their leader, a silver-mounted baton at the rehearsal on Saturday evening. The baton is both beautiful and useful and can be taken apart so as to fit conveniently into a lady's purse.

The choir is practicing for a concert which they will give two weeks hence. They will be assisted by other artists and the affair promises to be a musical treat.

President Stephenson Says Economy Is Watchword

their level best and the board regretted very much that they could not recognize their worth in a substantial way, but because of the fact that wages and salaries are now being reduced in nearly all walks of life, it would be unwise to grant any general increases at this time, with the exception of the police and fire departments, which amounted to a $10 a month raise for the captain of police and captain of firemen, respectively, and a $5 a month raise for each patrolman and each driver of motor fire apparatus. Let it be noted in this connection that the pay of our police and fire department is still under the usual rate fixed by other cities of our size.

The total monthly pay roll of the city of Glendale under the new ordinance will be $9,750. The total monthly increase in the pay roll amounts to the sum of $490. Of this latter sum, $275 a month will be paid from direct taxation and the balance will be met from revenues other than direct taxation. In other words, $215 a month of the raises provided for in the ordinance will be taken care of out of the revenues of divisions that are self-supporting.

In conclusion, let me once more call your attention to the fact that there has been no general increase in salaries with the exception of those noted above. The principal raises were in the heads of divisions. These raises are amply justified when the increased responsibility carried by these heads of divisions are taken into consideration. Instead of censuring the board of trustees for this ordinance, the citizens should commend it, for it managed to save enough money out of the salary allotment to increase our police force by three men and our fire department by one man.

Trusting that this statement may clear up the misunderstanding existing relative to the new salary ordinance and sincerely urging an investigation by any who may doubt the truthfulness of this statement, I am,

Respectfully yours,
DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON,
President Board of Trustees,
City of Glendale.

"FAITH PAYS"

By REV. W. E. EDMONDS

The Sunday morning sermon at the Presbyterian church by Rev. W. E. Edmonds was from the text, "Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper." (II. Chron., 20:20.)

Faith pays. Some people are convinced of this, but some are hazy. Paul says by divine inspiration, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." With special emphasis from the Reformation comes down to us, "The just shall live by faith." Soon along this way we come to "belief." The word "faith" comes from the rock "trust." We trust, and then we go right along believing. "Believe" is first found in Genesis 15:6; "Abram believed God"; literally it is "amen-ed God"; he said, Amen, it shall be so. And this belief was imputed to him for righteousness. Our position to all God's promises should be, "Amen, it shall be so." When God speaks it is sufficient, whether He says that thing once or a thousand times.

The important question is, To what is your faith linked? It becomes a personal bond of union. "I am the vine, ye are the branches"; the same life runs through vine and branches; they are inseparable. "None can pluck them out of my Father's hand."

Now remember these three words: Fact, faith, feeling—always they go in this order. Fact goes first: faith with its eye on fact follows after: then feeling comes behind. The moment faith turns around and looks backward at feeling there is a wobble and fall.

This kind of faith confers authority. Every believer has the right to vouch for the truth and power of God's word. God stands ready to do His part.

As to the psychological aspect of faith. "Perfect love casteth out fear," and also, faith casteth out fear. Medical science knows well that mental states produce physical effects. Faith affects your whole system. There is nothing like it to steady the nerve and maintain regular heart action. It has a mighty therapeutic value as it touches your life in all aspects. It profoundly affects the pre-natal training of the child. It is a defence in physical danger.

It pays to live the life of faith. Faith is the great conductor of blessing. It is able to touch all the needs of life from foundation to cap-stone and every thing between. It links us eternally with the Lord Jesus Christ.

Boys Have Royal Good Time on Brand Estate

cooking over them. These breakfasts represented the individual appetites of the boy cooks and ranged all the way from bacon and beans to sardines and griddle cakes.

Immediately after breakfast there were devotional exercises conducted by the boys themselves and into which they entered with the same enthusiasm that had marked their games. All took part and during the three minutes allotted to Bible quotations they came so fast that sometimes two or three were talking at once.

The races followed and Darrell Korb of Glendale was one of the fortunate winners who had a ride in the airplane. He was given a flight over Glendale and some loop-the loops, which last, he said, made him feel rather hollow in the stomach.

The organized push-ball games then came off. All the towns represented had teams and captains and Glendale and Covina had to play for the championship, Covina winning.

By that time the boys, hot and dirty, were glad to take advantage of Mr. Brand's invitation to visit his swimming pool. Practically every boy went in wearing his "birthday suit." Dinner time had arrived when they were ready to quit the pool and another meal was prepared for the boys. When it was concluded Mr. Budwig gave a fine exhibition of air stunts, doing loops, spirals, falling leaf, and all the difficult feats on any aviator's program. That brought the afternoon to a close and the boys packed up, made their adieus to Mr. and Mrs. Brand, and left for their homes.

Throughout their stay Mrs. Brand was with them almost constantly looking after their comfort and enjoying the fun. The last stunt of their stay was a rousing cheer for their host and hostess which testified as eloquently as could any speech they might make to the happy time they had enjoyed on the Brand estate.

WILL CELEBRATE "OLD FOLKS DAY"

On June 19, a week from next Sunday, the First Methodist church will celebrate an "Old Folks Day" with appropriate sermon and songs.

The committee on arrangements include Messrs. W. F. Tower, W. N. Bott, J. E. Phillips and Mmes. Floyd Reed and K. C. Sipple. Automobiles will be sent to bring these special guests to the service which will be held at 11 o'clock.

THORNYCROFT MEN ARE ENTERTAINED ON SATURDAY EVENING

C. S. Delano, an artist and composer of national reputation, with members of his club appeared Saturday evening before the invalided ex-service men at Thornycroft hospital, rendering selections on the tenor banjo, ukulele and Hawaiian steel guitar as a feature of Music Week.

The vocalist for the occasion was Marcus Ellis, a leading voice teacher of Los Angeles. His fine tenor carried beautifully above the guitars and banjos which accompanied him in rendering "Lullaby Time," "The Rosary," "Wild Irish Rose" and "Aloha."

The treat of the evening, however, was the appearance of Frederick J. Bacon, who has been called the world's greatest living banjoist. Mr. Bacon is in the west on a brief business trip and was to have left Los Angeles Saturday morning for San Francisco, but Mr. DeLano, a personal friend of long standing, prevailed upon him to stay in the south another day to play for his club and members of Thornycroft. His numbers were "A Study in Black," "Sleep Little One Sleep," "University Grand Waltz," his famous Commandery March, "Old Black Joe" and "Massa's In the Cold, Cold Ground" with variations. Mr. Bacon has just finished making records of the two latter numbers for the Edison people. A little vaudeville sketch which was highly received by his audience consisted of "Yankee Doodle" and "Blue Bells of Scotland," played at the same time and on the same instrument. Mr. Bacon was to have played at Trinity auditorium in the American Guild Grand Concert on June 24 and 25, at which time Mr. DeLano and his players will appear, but owing to urgent business in the east will be unable to do so.

Especially beautiful were the two Hawaiian guitar solos played by Mr. DeLano and accompanied by Miss Helen DeLano on the Spanish guitar "Rippling Waters" and "Oriental Chant." These are Mr. DeLano's own compositions and well display his marvelous command and knowledge of his instrument.

Other numbers for the evening were as follows:

Hawaiian steel guitar—"The Rosary," Sextet from Lucia and a Melody consisting of the "Wild Irish Rose," "Hilo" and "Aloha."

Banjo—"Pep," "Lullaby Time" and Beethoven's "Minuet" in G.

Ukulele—"Heila Dance," "El Sueno" and "Alakei Dance."

Members of the club are Dorothy Brigham, Bessie D. Mock, Bernice Goodell, Gladys Polsey, Helen DeLano, Meredith Gregor, Bessie DeLano, Maxine Simons, Margaret Vinson Kenneth Armstrong, W. H. Allen, W. Allers, Darel Lingenfelter and Mr. McKee.

The entertainers are particularly grateful to C. C. Racine, an ex-service man at Thornycroft, for his assistance in making the evening a success.

THEATERS

Palace Grand

Can you "guess" what the other man is thinking? Is the man who thinks murder equally guilty with the wretch who commits the deed?

These and many other ethical problems made "The Witching Hour" one of the great stage successes of all times. The Augustus Thomas triumph has now been filmed as a William D. Taylor Realart special and will be shown at the Palace Grand today.

To interpret this gripping play of a strong man's will, Mr. Taylor needed—and secured—a really all-star cast. Elliott Dexter, famous leading man of many Cecil B. de Mille productions, was considered a perfect choice for "Jack Brookfield," the gentleman gambler who came to realize that his ability to "guess" the other man's hand was cheating just as much as if he had a card up his sleeve.

Mary Alden, of "Birth of a Nation" fame, has the mother role created by Jennie Eustace. Clay Whipple, the hot-headed youngster who had an inherited loathing for the cats-eye, is cast by the juvenile lead, while Ruth Renick, former leading lady for Douglas Fairbanks, plays opposite him.

HIGH-Y GROUPS IN CHARGE OF SERVICE

One of the High-Y groups at Glendale high had charge of the evening service at the Burbank Presbyterian church Sunday night. Maynard Toll, Dale Wood and George Jordan were the speakers. The group was in charge of Leader Everett Anderson and he was very much pleased with the manner in which the boys acquitted themselves.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Meta Myres of Los Angeles spent the week-end with Miss Helen Kapus of 312 Magnolia avenue.

Doty L. Anderson of Glendora was a Glendale visitor recently. Mr. Anderson is a former resident of this city.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bledsoe and daughter, of Los Angeles, passed Sunday with E. L. Schuyler and family of 330 Ivy street.

In honor of her niece, Miss Jessie Thornton of Los Angeles, Mrs. T. Thornton of 301 North Brand boulevard recently entertained at an informal card party.

The R. W. T. of the First Baptist church will hold its regular monthly social and business meeting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Russell at 322 Riverdale drive tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Hollywood police recovered a Chevrolet touring car Saturday night belonging to A. W. Huskins of 417 Ivy street, Glendale. The car was stolen from in front of the Glendale Presbyterian church at the corner of Cedar and Broadway, last Sunday night.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Rober McCourt, 336 North Central avenue, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ryerson of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Tresslar of Glendale, at dinner Friday evening at their home.

* * *

Mrs. H. A. Ninemire of San Fernando is occupying the residence at 371 Pioneer drive temporarily until she can lease to a good tenant. Her sister, Mrs. G. M. Russell of Ogilvie, is her guest for a few days.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kinsey of Lincoln, Neb., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey have been wintering here and are considering Glendale as their future home.

* * *

Mrs. H. R. Boyer of North Orange street and sister and niece, Mrs. Newell and Miss Loomis, and Mrs. W. H. Boothby of 348 West Lexington drive, were luncheon guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorman of Arcadia.

The house guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Palmer of 1008 East Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown and daughter, departed on Friday for their home in Hendrickson, Mo. They have left the assurance, however, that they will return to Glendale and probably live here.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lovell of 505 North Maryland avenue, had as their dinner guests yesterday Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lovell and children, of 114 West Laurel street, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor and three children of 506 North Jackson street, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Havens of Los Angeles.

* * *

E. M. Wardell spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. A. K. Crawford, of North Cedar street. Mr. Wardell is actively engaged in the oil business at Brea and is enthusiastic over conditions in that section. He reports a large well coming in last week that promises to be a record breaker.

Miss Pansy Sheldon, who has been wintering here, was the guest of honor at a pretty informal party given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. R.T. Sheldon, of 401 Patterson avenue, on Friday. Miss Sheldon's home is in Rocky Ford, Colo., but she intends to remain in Glendale, making this city her permanent home.

* * *

Guy F. Maxwell of 202 West Park avenue and Miss Rosalie Gilliland of 1027 Virginia place, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Miller and daughter Josephine, of Hollywood, motored to Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon, visiting the Metcalf-Hinckley oil fields and viewing the wrecked airplane which crashed to the sand about noon, injuring several people and killing one.

* * *

E. R. Lucy and wife have moved into the house at 308 East Wilson avenue. They are newcomers from the east who were attracted to Glendale by reports of its beauty and healthfulness. Mrs. Lucy's mother, Mrs. J. Shugrue, of Boston, Mass., is visiting them now and would like very much to remain permanently, but business interests in the "Hubb" call her back in a few weeks.

* * *

J. A. Cheever and wife, who sold their home at 447 West Maple avenue a few months ago, and purchased two lots on Concord street, Nos. 339 and 343, have their new 5-room residence about completed. They have been living in a garage residence at the rear of the lot and Mrs. Cheever has been taking good care of 100 or more fine Rhode Island Red hens which have repaid her with their laying. She is greatly improved in health as a result of the outdoor life.

Miss Alta J. Lovell, 505 North Maryland avenue, is absent from her place in one of the schools of Los Angeles because of a rundown, nervous condition which necessitates her remaining in the Glendale sanitarium for treatment for a week or more.

H. M. Brown of Phoenix, Ariz., is visiting friends in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maxwell of 202 West Park avenue visited the oil fields at Huntington Beach Saturday.

Miss Julia Echlin of Los Angeles was a week-end visitor at the home of Dr. Caroline Paine Jackman, 515 North Kenwood street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Kuehny of 368 Doran street were recent guests at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Welsh at their home in Hollywood.

Mrs. Frank Pitner of Los Angeles was the guest last week at the V. M. Tresslar home, 320 West Lexington drive. Mrs. Pitner was formerly a resident of Glendale.

Miss Helen Esterly of 438 Oak street, is leaving today for San Diego with the Los Angeles Opera company to sing in the "Mikado" and "Firefly."

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Simi were Saturday guests of Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. Samuel Mason of East Chestnut street. Mr. Roberts is a well-known oil man of that section.

Reed Huestis, of "Evening Herald Green" fame, and Harry Farnsworth MsPherson, the prominent moving picture director, have just returned from an outing at Venice and other coast resorts.

Miss Catherine Sargent, daughter of Emory Sargent of North Kenwood street, is home for the summer. Miss Sargent is a teacher in Oregon and will return to that state this fall to again take up her duties as an instructor.

William McMillan and wife of 336 Milford street, are enjoying a vacation trip to San Francisco and other northern points. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Thompson. Word received from the party today says they are thoroughly enjoying the trip.

Miss Leota Snyder of 112 Arden avenue, who has been teaching in Maricopa, has returned to her home here and is planning a trip east this summer, including visits at New York, Washington, Chicago, and other cities.

Griffith park was the scene of a novel birthday party Friday, when Herbert Howeth and a number of his little friends celebrated his seventh birthday. Herbert's parents took the merry group to the park in their machine. A very delightful afternoon was spent by the youngsters and appropriate refreshments were enjoyed.

* * *

An interesting visitor in Glendale is Stanton Wyatt of Honolulu, T. H. Mr. Wyatt has purchased a home here and intends to remain. He reports conditions in the Hawaiian islands as being on the upward trend, with every indication of a very prosperous season. The tourist season promises to be very heavy.

REAL ESTATE DEALS NEAR LEXINGTON AND BRAND

Through the agency of Doner, Hemenway & Burn, a series of important real estate transfers in the neighborhood of Lexington drive and Brand boulevard have been negotiated. Chief among these transactions was the sale to Dr. E. H. Parker of 426 North Maryland avenue, of the corner consisting of 100 feet on Brand and 135 feet on Lexington, which will be improved with a business block, possibly of two stories. Dr. Parker, who is a retired physician, recently purchased the Thornton property at the corner of Brand and California.

The Brand boulevard lot next north of Dr. Parker's was purchased recently by Mrs. Clara E. Smith, who has lately come to Glendale from New York. The next 50 feet were bought by H. W. Horn, a Los Angeles real estate broker. The lot on Lexington west of Dr. Parker's property was purchased by Miss Winifred Travers of the escrow department of the First National bank.

REV. J. S. O'NEILL'S SERMON SUNDAY

Taking for his text the 52nd verse of the sixth chapter of the Gospel of St. John, Rev. Father O'Neill, pastor of the Church of the Holy Family, preached an eloquent and instructive sermon yesterday at the 9:30 o'clock Mass, on the Catholic doctrine of the sacrament of the altar.

The words taken for the text were spoked by Our Lord as he sat teaching in the synagogue at Capernaum. The day before he had performed an amazing miracle that had perplexed the thoughts of the people by His amazing power over the seemingly inflexible laws of the material world. He had fed 5000 people with five barley loaves and two fishes. This exercise of His power and manifestation of His compassion was a guarantee of proof of the miracle by which He feeds and shall feed the children of men in the Sacrament of the Eucharist to the end of time. The first miracle foreshadowed the second.

That His disciples clearly understood Christ to mean literally what He said is evidenced by the fact that they never questioned His meaning, but strove against it, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?" is shown by the fact that He did not explain or elucidate His statement, as He surely would have done had they mistaken His meaning. They did not mistake His meaning, but doubted His power, because they had never believed in Him; they had believed in their judgment of Him—and when these astounding words of His offended their judgment, their faith was gone.

In His reply to their question, He answered His whilom followers by emphatically reaffirming His statement and placing the doctrine in the form of a threat: "Except you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you shall not have life in you.

After this many of His disciples walked with him no more. After He had turned to the twelve and asked them whether they too would leave Him and St. Peter, answering for the others, gave his testimony of his faith in the authority and infallibility of the Master, He never again made allusion to this doctrine; it lay in the depths of His loving heart until that solemn, momentous evening of the Last Supper, when he instituted the sacrament of the altar.

F. H. VESPER SAILS FOR ALASKA ON VACATION

The resignation of F. H. Vesper as assistant vice-president of the Glendale branches of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, which was announced June 4, was not altogether unexpected, because when he sold his interest in the bank he stated that it was for the purpose of securing relief from the cares of business, and leisure for some of the pleasures of life from which he had been denied because of his banking duties. After the sale, he consented to remain for a time to introduce the new officials to the Glendale public and render them such assistance as they might need in familiarizing themselves with the field and their patrons.

Mr. Vesper's retirement from the bank does not mean that he will cease to be interested in furthering the business interests of Glendale. It means simply that he will have more time for the kind of disinterested service that counts for so much in the upbuilding of a community. His home is here, his fortune has been accumulated here, and all his interests center here. He will belong to Glendale more than ever now that he is free from business entanglements.

The first use he has made of his leisure is to sail for Alaska, accompanied by his wife and granddaughter, Lois Naudain. They took a boat at San Pedro Sunday morning and expect to go as far north as Dawson before they return.

SHORTAGE OF RAGTIME

Word comes from Chicago that there is a shortage of ragtime songs. There are plenty of hatchet musicians to write the music, but there is a dearth of old-time, raggy, coo-ey words. It is even reported that one New York music publisher has journeyed into the Middle West in hopes of finding a few raggy verses which can be set to music.

The genuine musicians and those who truly appreciate good music will rejoice at the fate of the ragtime music publishers. They will herald it as a sign that the American people are coming to their senses. But possibly that is jumping at conclusions. Perhaps the shortage of ragtime songs means that the reconstruction problems are beginning to weigh so heavily that embryo song writers do not have the inspiration to turn to frivolous things. Songs are produced by a care-free people.

So, if the lack of ragtime songs is due to a psychological depression, it is perhaps not such happy news as the artists would have one believe. Trying times can best be met with a light heart—not irresponsibility, but cheerfulness. Incidentally, there seems to be opportunity for sentimental souls with poetical tendencies to write a snappy song for the distracted publishers of ragtime music.

GRAVE AND GAY

The wearing of earrings in China by boys is thus popularly explained by the Chinese: The boys is the greatest blessing that heaven can send. The spirits like baby boys. It is natural that they should; everybody likes them. Very often, if the baby boys are not watched closely, the spirits who are constantly around grab up the unwatched boy babe and carry him off to their home. Girl babies are not such blessings, and the spirits care nothing for them. The earring is a feminene ornament, and the spirits know that; so the Chinese mothers have the ears of their boys pierced, and put in huge earrings. When the spirits are around looking for boys, they will see the earrings and be fooled into thinking the boys are girls and pass on and not trouble them.

A Matter of Business

The following sign is seen in a certain garge:

"Don't smoke in this garage.
If your life isn't worth anything, gasoline is."

If you could ride from the earth to Alpha Centauri, the nearest star (not planet), on a train going at the rate of a mile a minute, you would reach your destination in forty-eight million years. At the rate sound travels, if a song were to be sung on Alpha Centauri, it would be 3,800,000 years before we could hear it. This neighbor of ours is thirty-five trillion miles away.

Every since Babe Ruth began his home run records hat sales in New York have picked up over 50 per cent, according to a report from a Gotham hatter. There are hundreds of hats involved in every circuit clout. It is rumored on Broadway, says a snappy drummer at the Lincoln hotel, that new hat stores are opening up like bottles of cognac in the vicinity of the Polo grounds. Every time Babe leans against the pill and knocks it in the back yard of somebody's home in Egypt, the inmates of the grandstand go dippy and break every hat in sight. Nobody knows for sure if Babe is in the hat business, but if not, why not? So say we all.

Talk about bigness! It makes us seem small when we get it into our heads that Canada is larger than the United States by 250,000 square miles; contains one-third of the area of the British Empire; is as large as thirty United Kingdoms, eighteen Germanys or thirty-three Italys; is larger than Australasia and twice the size of British India; has a boundary line of 3000 miles between it and the United States and a seacoast equaling half the earth's circumference; is 3500 miles wide and 1400 miles from north to south. Do you wonder the Canadians feel proud?

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

These recipes were used in the menu published in Saturday's issue of the Daily Press:

Rice Waffles

Add ¾ teaspoon salt and 1½ cups milk to 2 cups hot rice. Add 2 well-beaten egg yolks and 2 cups flour sifted with 4 teaspoons baking powder. Add ½ cup melted butter and beat well. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Cook on hot, well oiled waffle irons.

Loganberry Whip

Take the juice from one can of fancy loganberries, that is, a pint can, which yields a full cup of thick juice or over. Add to this two teaspoons of granulated tapioca, and stir over the fire until it thickens and cooks to the required degree, which we call transparent. Cool this. When cool it may be used for a whip, a mousse, or a pie. Other thickenings like corn starch might be used, but the tapioca gives the prettiest effects and does not alter the flavor of the juice.

For a small loganberry whip, for four people, take two whites of egg and beat them until stiff, adding about a half cup of fine sugar and beating the whole to icing stage. More sugar can be added. To this add the thickened loganberry juice, and beat until smooth. Or only half this measure of juice would do.

Bake like any whip, slowly for 20 minutes. If the oven is the least bit too hot it caramelizes the sugar next the baking dish, and caramelized sugar is a flavor in itself. Serve with a custard sauce or when cold and much contracted serve with whipped cream.

For a mousse stir this thickened juice into whipped cream, and freeze four hours, packed in half salt and half ice.

For a pie bake a crust and put in the whip mixture, smoothing it over carefully. The oven for this may be hotter than for the whip. The whip mixture will rise like a souffle but when cold and contracted it will be excellent. Serve with a thin film of whipped cream. Cold whip well mixed and garnished with whipped cream is a pretty and agreeable dessert.

Meat and Potato Pie

Take one cupful of cold chopped meat, two tablespoonfuls of minced onion, one-half cupful of canned tomatoes, two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, with salt and pepper to season. Put a layer of meat in the bottom of the baking dish, add a little onion and seasonings and half the tomato; repeat and cover with the mashed potato. Cover, and bake in a hot oven.

Devil's Food and Filling

First part: 1 cup grated chocolate, ½ cup sweet milk, 1 cup dark brown sugar. Stir and bring to boiling point. When sufficiently cool add to second part. Second part: Mix 1 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, yolks of 2 eggs. Add 1½ cups sweet milk and flour enough for medium batter, sifting with flour 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon baking powder. Filling: 2 cups sugar (white), ½ cup water. Boil until heavy thread from spoon. Beat whites and add syrup to them when done. Beat constantly and when nearly cool add 1 cup chopped nuts or use plain.

Raisin Pie

One ond a half cups seeded raisins 1½ cups boiling water, grated rind and juice of half a lemon, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup finely chopped walnuts. Cook raisins in boiling water until tender, mix flour and sugar and add to raisins, stirring until thick. Beat the eggs, add lemon and combine mixtures. Let cool slightly and bake between two crusts.

Vegetable Salad

Take cold cooked vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots, turnips peas, beans, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts and cut these all separately into little square pieces and put them into a bowl, seasoning with salt, pepper, chopped parsley, chopped onion, vinegar and salad oil. Serve on crisp lettuce nests with mayonnaise dressing spread over the top.

Canned vegetables may be used in place of the cold cooked vegetables.

Orange Drop Cakes

Three tablespoons shortening 1 cup sugar, two-thirds cup of milk, 1 egg, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon orange extract, and grated rind of 1 orange. Cream shortening and sugar together, add the milk slowly and then add well beaten egg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and add to mixture; mix well. Add flavoring and grated orange rind. Grease individual cake tins, put a spoonful of the mixture into each and bake in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Series of Articles on Patents, Inventions, Etc.

By WILLIAM C. CUTLER of Glendale, California

SEARCHES

The old saying, "knowledge is power," is nowhere better exemplified than in its application to patents. The more you know about a patent in which you are interested the more you may "make," conversely the less you may "lose." This statement leads up to this question. Why is it inventors and manufacturers sometimes play the part of the ostrich figuratively putting their heads in the sand, in hopes to ward off possible impending danger on their patents? Because the average inventor and small manufacturer does not seem to want to know the truth. An inventor will press the creation of the mind which has given it birth against his breast with loving care, will defend it almost with his very life; but rarely can he be induced to make an investigation to discover if it may not be a "still-born," which it many times proves to be.

The manufacturer will lock up his "Letters Patent" in the same vault with his gilt-edge bonds, but usually with this exception. He or his bankers have investigated and know in detail the value of the property against which the bond is issued whereas he frequently accepts the "Patent Grant"—"on its face"—and, I'll wager, not one man in a hundred is aware that printed on the "face," (the title page of the grant) are these words: "An Alleged Improvement." And when an attorney tells him he ought to have the result of a "validity" and "infringement," search made and filed with the patent, he thinks the attorney is "fishing for a job."

Q.—Searches. How many kinds are made in relation to inventions?

A.—Four.

Q.—What are they called?

A.—1. Preliminary search.
2. Commercial search.
3. Validity search.
4. Infringement search.

Q.—1. Preliminary search. Of what does it consist?

A.—Examination of the patent office files, to ascertain if there are any issued patents which are similar to the construction the inventor has made.

Q.—Why should this search be made?

A.—Owing to the large number (over 1,350,000) patents already issued, arranged in nearly 300 classes and 10,000 sub-classes, a prior patent may have been granted on the article.

Q.—Preliminary search advantages. Does it serve as such to the inventor?

A.—Yes, if conducted with care and by a competent searcher, and if (and this is of greatest importance), the attorney informs the inventor of the true results of the search.

Q.—Why is emphasis given to the last part of the previous answer?

A.—Because, in a recent investigation, six different attorneys stated that a simple invention which had already been patented, was patentable.

Q.—How was this investigation made?

A.—A simple, already patented invention was used for the test. It was first ascertained that copies of the patent were in the proper files in the search room at Washington. Then an exact copy of the drawing of the patent, properly described, was sent to certain attorneys who advertise "free searches." Six replies were received stating that all similar patents had been "carefully searched," and the device was patentable. All wanted money sent and some wanted it rushed to start a patent application.

Q.—What did this prove?

A.—Either that these attorneys were full fledged crooks or had incompetent searchers. The reader can make his own choice.

Q.—Benefit of preliminary search. Does the inventor derive any and what?

A.—1. It lays before him copies of patents nearest to his own invention. 2. It gives him an opportunity to decide whether he will make an application if he finds a patent similar to his own. 3. It frequently enables him to change his construction, so that it will not come in conflict with the prior device. 4. It may give him valuable suggestions which will enable him to improve his construction, even if his own invention is shown to be new.

Q.—Cost of a preliminary search. What is the?

A.—Attorneys charge from five ($5) upward.

Q.—Commercial search. Of what does it consist?

A.—A search to discover the scope of prior and present public use of similar inventions.

BURGLARS' WORK PROVES FRUITLESS

Burglars broke into the F. P. Newport Company on Verdugo road and La Canada boulevard, last night. Entrance was gained through a window. The office was ransacked, but nothing was found missing. The burglars were evidently in search of money for the drawer, where it is usually kept, was found opened. No clue has been found, as yet.

The man who advertises a little and then says that advertising don't pay is like unto the man who burns one match under a five-barrel kettle of water and then says fire will not heat water.

ATASCADERO TO BE SCENE OF PAGEANT AND MASQUE

Atascadero, San Luis Obispo county, is to have this summer, Percy MacKaye's beautiful pageant and masque entitled "Sanctuary." It will be put on for three days, July 4, 5 and 6. Percy MacKaye, the author of this beautiful work is a man of international reputation as a builder of pageants and allegorical masques and the natural Pine Mountain Park stadium of Atascadero makes an ideal setting for this production and should draw visitors from all parts of California. The interest that is being taken in this pageant is emphasized by its endorsement which includes the highest officials of the state, the presidents of the different universities, judges and senators who have expressed their keen desire to assist in any measure that will help in the conservation of the wild birds of California.

Nothing will be left undone in the staging of this pageant to make it equal to anything of its kind produced in any part of the country. Every bird will be represented by children of different ages. All costumes to represent the plumage of the bird that they interpret.

The musical arrangements will be in the hands of the Atascadero Music Club and the songs, dances and incidental music given in the pageant can be ranked among some of the most beautiful and artistic given in any production of its kind.

The entire county of San Luis Obispo is taking a keen interest in this three-day celebration and there is no doubt that there will be considerable influx of people on each of these days. Special arrangements are being made to take care of all visitors and the chamber of commerce, Atascadero, will be pleased to send programs and illustrated literature dealing with this celebration on receipt of request.

J. C. SHERER SELLS BROADWAY HOLDING

J. C. Sherer, city clerk, whose home is Somerset farm on Verdugo road, has recently sold to Harrington & Peterton, a lot he owned on the southwest corner of Broadway and Jackson street. The consideration was in the neighborhood of $7500 and the purchase was made for investment. Quite a little history is associated with this lot which was bought in 1912 in the expectation that a building to house a newspaper plant would be erected upon the property. The plan fell through and Mr. Sherer, who was a majority stockholder in the company has been carrying the lot ever since. Until the first of the present year it was not considered to be worth more than the price given for it in 1912, viz., $4000. Since the year opened values on Broadway have been jumping and it will probably not be sold again for less than $10,000.

CLARENCE KIMLIN ON SUNDAY CLOSING, CHURCH AND STATE

Clarence Kimlin, manager of the Glendale sanitarium, seemed considerably amused over the tales that are being circulated about candidates for the city council, their affiliations and intentions if elected. But when approached relative to Sunday closing he said frankly that his attitude was that of his faith who are opposed to anything that they think suggests a union of church and state. As he puts it, the foundation of this government was civil and religious liberty, and if we undertake to impose our consciences on other people, religious liberty will cease. Though he conscientiously keeps Saturday as the Holy day he would be just as much opposed to forcibly closing places of amusement on that day because, he seems to think, we cannot legislate virtue into people. Just as soon as we forget the liberty guaranteed by our constitution, that strong rock on which our country was built, that moment we begin to cripple our strength. Religion, he holds, must be a spontaneous desire. When its observance is secured by force there is no virtue in it, he declares. If picture shows are wrong they should be closed on all other days as well as Sunday. If they are not wrong, then attendance on them should be left to the individual conscience of patrons. He does, however, believe such shows should be so regulated on all days as to prevent the exhibition of pictures that are demoralizing and that have a corrupting influence, such as pictures of criminal exploits.

LOCAL COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS

The Glendale Construction company, corner of Brand boulevard and California street, owners of Maryland court and other local properties, recently held its annual meeting, at which important business was transacted.

Officers were elected as follows: Howard L. Brown, president; H. L. Finley, vice-president; W. G. Boyd, secretary-treasurer.

The new board of directors elected at this meeting includes Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, Frank L. Fox, H. L. Finley, W. G. Boyd and Howard L. Brown.

VICTIMS INSPECT BURGLARS' LOOT

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 6.—"Old Home Week" at the Englewood police station has ended. The celebration came to an end when the "lockup's" $15,000 stock of merchandise finally vanished—to its proper owners.

Two bandits arrested by Englewood police netted the discovery of $15,000 in stolen loot hidden in their homes. Hundreds of residents of the Englewood district visited the station, identifying stolen property.

The loot ranged from hairpins to firearms and from floor lamps to jewelry and clothing.

When glass is broken on the floor it is sometimes difficult to pick up all the little pieces. A wet cloth laid on the floor will easily overcome the difficulty.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The court of appeals in the district of Columbia today affirmed the action of the district supreme court in denying a mandamus asked by the Grand Trunk Western railway company against the secretary of the treasury to compel issuance of a warrant of $500,000 part payment of the railroad guaranty from the government.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The District of Columbia court of appeals today sustained the action of former Postmaster General Burleson in excluding the New York Call from the mails and reversed the decision of the district supreme court which had granted a writ of mandamus to compel reinstatement of the paper as second-class matter.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The full facilities of the Ninth army corps has been placed at the disposal of Governor Shoup of Colorado for the relief of Pueblo. Tents, blankets and camp supplies have been shipped from Salt Lake to Pueblo for the use of the flood refugees. A pack train is made up at Fort Russell, Wyo., awaiting word that it is needed. Governor Shoup has advised army headquarters that army aviators are not needed. It was stated at corps headquarters today that the whole army organization was in readiness to heed any request made by Governor Shoup on a moment's notice.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 6.—More than 100 miles of Santa Fe railroad tracks in the Arkansas valley below Pueblo were under water today, officials the road announced over the one telegraph wire the railroad has reaching into the flood district.

LONDON, June 6.—The outlook for a compromise settlement of the national coal strike was declared to be more favorable this afternoon following a point conference of the collier owners and the executive committee of the Federation of Miners. After a brief session the conference adjourned to meet again late in the day.

COLORADO SPRINGS. Colo., June 6.—Pike's Peak is covered with two feet of snow today. A mile of the famous Cog road has been washed out by the large volume of water running down the mountain sides. Manitou, at the foot of Pike's Peak, is threatened with destruction from heavy rainfall and rise of mountain creeks. The mayor has issued a proclamation calling upon all able-bodied citizens to report immediately and make an effort to stem the menacing flood.

DENVER, Colo., June 6.—At 10 o'clock today the waters of the South Platte river were rapidly rising and squads of Denver police were hurrying along the bottoms warning residents to leave their homes. Two bridges went out about 9 o'clock, one at West Third street and Eighth avenue and the other at West Eleventh avenue.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 6.—At 9 o'clock the waters were receding rapidly and for the first time since the floods broke over this city it was possible to make a real survey of the city. Relief workers are being sent out in large squads and the work of cleaning up the ravages of the flood was getting well under way at this hour.

PARIS, June 6.—Two American soldiers attached to the American army of occupation on the Rhine were killed by a German civilian at Andrach, says a dispatch from Coblenz today. The killing took place while the Americans were being mobbed by a crowd of quarrelsome Germans. The murderer escaped.

CATALPA TREES AT SANITARIUM

Beautiful Specimens of These Native American Trees Now in Full Bloom

The Glendale sanitarium has artfully planted its campus to such a variety of trees and shrubs that guests can always find something that looks like home, no matter from what part of the country they come. Just now, some very handsome catalpa trees in front of the institution are in full bloom and they doubtless take many an observer back to the plains of Kansas and the Dakotas, for they were great favorites for tree claim plantations and indeed, were recommended by the government for the purpose because of their beauty, rapid growth and excellent quality of hardwood. Catalpa is the Indian name of the first discovered species native to North America. Varieties are also found in the West Indies, Japan and China. It is such a handsome tree in leaf and contour that it is surprising not to find it more often in California, as the specimens in the sanitarium grounds prove that it thrives here.

MUSICAL NEWS OF HIGH SCHOOL

The play to be put on by seniors of Glendale high, June 9 and 10, will be supplemented by a musical program provided by the orchestra of the school.

Relative to the music for the commencement exercises which will take place June 16 at the Glendale theater, Mrs. Gibson, head of the music department of Glendale high states that Frank Lanterman, a former student and graduate, will play the big organ. He has been specializing on that instrument since he left the school.

METHODIST CHURCH

By REV. C. M. CRIST

A number of persons joined the First Methodist church yesterday, and next Sunday, Children's Day, a part of the program is the reception of children and adults; there will also be baptism of infants and adults.

The sermon by Dr. Crist yesterday was of special interest, the text being Gal. 2:20: "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Dr. Crist said:

"The objection to the expression: 'Practical Christianity,' is that it suggests that there is such as thing as Christianity that is not practical. The fact is, life and religion are one, or neither is anything. A most common misconception is that our ideals are to be realized in some sphere above earthly levels. The glory of the Christian religion, humanly speaking, is that it glorifies common life. The highest ideals of Jesus are to be worked out on the plane of everyday life.

"The gospel," said Dr. Crist, "would have a new and thrilling power if it were to be applied to all the phases of human experience. The Christian life is comprehended within three spheres of activity, the home, society and business, and the church. To each of these let us apply the words of the text, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me.'

"Home," said the preacher, "is a test place. No one knows our faults and failures more than those who live with us in the intimacy of home life. It is not only a test place, but it is the first place for witness to Christ's power to save. The Gaderene wanted to go with Jesus, you remember, to tell everybody what had happened in his life, but Jesus said: 'Go to thine own house and show what great things God hath done unto thee.' The religious home is a resting place for Jesus. It is a veritable house of God with an altar of worship. Talk about sacred places, none are more sacred than the home! If it is a proper thing to dedicate a church, then there should be some form for home dedication.

"Social and business life," said Rev. Crist, "suggest our next sphere of activity. No general conception is more ruinous to the finer qualities of our moral and spiritual being than that which suggests that in one place we are to be religious and in another place it is just business. We belong to God. We live in God's word. We handle God's things. This church's greatest opportunity is not here in this building: It is out on Broadway or Brand boulevard in the business houses; it is on Louise or Maryland streets or on some other street in our residence districts. It is not preaching in the pulpit, but practicing throughout the week that will win the world to Jesus Christ."

Rev. Crist's last emphasis was on the church life. Said he: "Just what constitutes an ideal church member may, to some extent, be a matter of opinion. But we will all agree on what I am about to say. Presuming, of course, that the church member has religion, the first requirement of a good member is that he attend church. The church will come first in his plans. He will attend the evening, as well as the morning, service, and at prayer meeting he will also be seen. He will support the church financially, and by a spirit of prayerful interest. He will not only contribute of his means but he will give himself. Possibly the church of Jesus Christ needs nothing more, even in these days of great demand for money, than a holy, sacrificial giving of self. So that we may say: 'For me to live in the church is Christ.'"

ALUMNI DAY MAGNET WHICH DREW MANY EX-STUDENTS TO HIGH SCHOOL

Alumni Day proved to be a magnet which drew to the high school former students who were welcomed enthusiastically. It included many who had been very active in the life of the school and who proved by their presence that it has a warm place in their affections. It is not possible to list them all, but the familiar faces seen included Kenneth Wilde, Russell Tummel, Stewart McMillan, Robert Kolts, Miller Fischel, Carlton West, Frank McCluskey, Orville Williams, Berna Martin, Tom Lyons, Lee Wise, Guy Bennett, Kenneth Perrin, Howard McGillis and Irving Westwood.

A baseball bame between an alumni team and a picked team of undergraduates was the big event of the afternoon. On the alumni team were: Bob Kolts, catcher; Howard McGillis, pitcher; Irving Westwood, first base; Miller Fischel, second base; Kenneth Wilde, left field; Roland Brown, center field and Orville Williams, right field.

The high school team included: Dennison, catcher; Aageson, pitcher; Rike, first base; Wilson, second base; Fruhling, shortstop; Merriken, third base; Terzo, right field; Weetman, center field and Green and McNary, left field.

It proved to be a peppy, close game of seven innings, the high school team making 12 hits and 5 runs, while the alumni team ran them a close second with 5 hits and 4 runs.

At 7:30 p. m., the alumni held its annual meeting in the high school auditorium which opened with a number by the alumni orchestra. This was followed by a reading, "Peg O' My Heart," by Miss Doris Packer. Miss Marie Oliver then gave a vocal number and responded to applause with an encore.

An excellent talk was made by Principal George U. Moyse in which he expressed his pleasure in welcoming these old students, and his pride in the fine records they had been making since they left the high school. The report of the treasurer was submitted and approved, as was the report of the nominating committee, the association electing the candidates it recommended, as follows: Don Packer, president; Russell Tummel, vice-president; Ernestine Lyons, secretary; Frank Balthis, treasurer.

An adjournment was then taken to the new girls' gymnasium where the balance of the evening was devoted to dancing, members of the graduating class of Glendale high being guests of the alumni. Mr. and Mrs. Moyse and Mr. Ferguson also graced the scene which yielded so much pleasure for all concerned that when the proposal was made to have another dance three weeks hence, the proposition was endorsed by tremendous applause.

DR. ECKLES GIVES VALUABLE INFORMATION TO THE PUBLIC

It is the purpose of the Glendale health department from now on, at intervals, to give to the people of Glendale a resume of the health conditions as presented to date. To fulfill this we take this opportunity to bring a certain few facts to the attention of the general public.

In regard to the rabies, we feel glad to state that to date no new cases have appeared in the city, although a number of dogs are being supervised by this department; that is, kept chained and muzzled and inspected to note condition as to whether or not they are showing any signs of rabies. The heads of several dogs have been sent to the state laboratory, which is essential, in order that we might know positively whether or not they were afflicted with rabies; but in every case except two negative reports have been received. We wish to ask the people of Glendale to still continue keeping their dogs muzzled or tied up for a few more days, and as soon as conditions warrant notice will be duly given through our department inspectors releasing restrictions which have existed. At the present time, however, it would be very unwise to release in the slightest degree our vigilance, as the incubator period for rabies in a few of these dogs is at a point where it will be soon shown positive or negative, and should some of these be released before the period of supervision is complete we might have the trouble of once more instituting rigid quarantine measures and have the added trouble of caring for some injured persons who have been bitten by a rabid animal.

The Public Health News, a bulletin issued by the California state board of health, May 25, 1921, states that during the period from January 21 to May 21, 1921, that there were 29 cases of rabies in animals within the county of Stanislaus. During that period 18 persons were bitten and all took Pasteur treatment. It also states that, owing to the rigid conditions imposed in taking care of the rabies nuisance that recently it was found possible to release the muzzling ordinance, as apparently all cases had been satisfactorily disposed of and no new ones appeared. Mention is also made that two human deaths have recently been reported from rabies, and in both cases they were unable to find any positive evidence of the victims, which were children, having been bitten by any animal. It is evident, therefore that in some cases the symptoms of rabies in dogs are so mild that infection may occur from an animal whose condition is not serious enough to give evidences of a rabid condition.

We wish to tell the people of Glendale that we appreciate very much the prompt compliance with the rules of the health office in regard to the situation in complying with the muzzling ordinance, even though in many cases it proved difficult and caused considerable trouble. A little more appreciation of the necessity of these regulations will mean a complete checking of the further spread of this disease in our community.

Our working force in this department has been increased by the addition of a public health nurse, Miss Helen McAlonan, a Red Cross nurse, with considerable experience in health department work. At the present time she is very busy checking school children along the lines of bettering their condition and also the conditions of the homes from which they come, and assisting very materially in the prevention of contagion in the schools by school and home inspection.

The dairies of the city and outside dairies supplying the City of Glendale with milk and cream are being inspected at regular intervals to insure Glendale a supply of pure and whole some milk. We would be pleased very much if those who find the milk supply of such a character to warrant suspicion in any way to notify the department and same will be investigated.

We wish, further, to state that the water supply of our city is now practically free from objection from any standpoint. The presence of pipe moss in the water has been nearly eradicated. The bacterial examination of the water shows that it is in A-1 condition. Samples are being taken daily at various points in our water system and all of these show that the water is more than satisfactory, and we have reason to be proud of the supply.

We wish to state in regard to the water supply that the same request holds good as regards milk, that is, that anyone having reason to complain of the condition of the water will please notify the health department and prompt steps will be taken to investigate the condition and we will do our best to make the condition satisfactory.

Health Officer.

New Thought

Editor Glendale Daily Press: Dr. Frank L. Riley of Hollywood delivered a lecture before the New Thought Center of Glendale, who meet in the large room on the first floor of the Masonic hall each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, a. m., on "Winfield's Interpretation of the Rubiat by Omar Khayyam."

Dr. Riley shows conclusively that the interpretation of the Rubiat by Fitzgerald, the sensualist, by whom so many have been led astray, is diametrically contrary to the thought of the author of the Rubiat, owing to the fact, that as in the case of the orthodox teaching of the present time, the Rubiat and the Bible are interpreted literally, when as a matter of fact the Rubiat is largely allegorical and the Bible from the first verse in Genesis to the last thought in Revelation should be interpreted allegorically.

The doctor showed that the translation of the Rubiat by Winfield, was one of the set of works included in the "Oriental Foundation," embracing particularly the sacred history of the past six thousand, five hundred years, that Omar Khayyam was a Mohammedan Mystic, that all of the philosophers of his time, Plato, Socrates, Pythagoris and scores of others as well as the Master, invariably spoke in allegory.

One of the illustrations so beautifully presented as an irrefutable fact was the interpretation of the "cup of wine," which the 105th verse is shown to be the interpretation of, namely that the "cup" is the body and the wine is the soul. Christ said, "to them that are without, I speak in parables."

Dr. Riley went on to show that religious animosity is one of the greatest curses of the world from time immemorial to the present; that the present hell in Ireland is due to the above-named curse and not to causes generally supposed; that the real underlying cause is the hatred of the Roman Catholics of the north by the Scotch Presbyterians of the south, and vice-versa.

The doctor is highly in favor of the Bible being introduced into the public schools, is quite enthusiastic over the fact that it has recently been made part of the curriculum of the schools of his home town, Hollywood.

NATION-WIDE CHARTING TRIP

Southern California is to gain great fame from a nation-wide charting trip undertaken by a crew representing the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Leaving Los Angeles, this crew will represent as Automobile Club agents in the entire southern part of the state in securing data throughout America for strip maps indicating practically every road in this country.

This, according to M. B. Towman, local representative, is the first time in the history of the world that any single motoring organization has undertaken to individually map the roads of any entire nation. The data to be secured on this charting trip will be used by the club's drafting department in the preparation of detail maps on cardboard strips which will show every turn and twist of practically every important highway in America.

Leaving the Southern part of California the crew will travel eastward through the southern states to Florida, proceeding from there throughout the "old South" and through New England to the Canadian border.

From the northeastern corner of Maine, the club crew will work westward along the Canadian border and throughout the Great Lakes region, proceeding into Canada as far as Winnipeg at one point and as far as Lake Louise at another. The return trip down the coast will include the states of Oregon and Washington.
